Mr. Emmett Seely
Secretary
The Choctaw-Chickasaw Confederation

Dear Mr. Seely:

Thank you for writing about the appointment of a new Governor of the Chickasaw Nation.

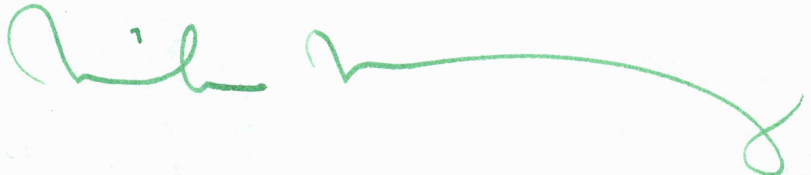

Under the law the President has the authority to name Governors of the Chickasaw Nation, but many years ago that authority was delegated by Executive Order to the Secretary of the Interior.

As you no doubt know from news reports, Secretary of the Interior Udall administered the oath of office to Mr. E. B. Maytubby as his choice for Governor of the Chicksaws on May 28, 1963. His appointment is not subject to confirmation by the Senate.

I feel sure that Secretary Udall has complete confidence in the ability of Governor Maytubby to discharge the duties and obligations of his new office, and to be ever mindful of the best interests of the Chickasaw Nation.

With best regards and god wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,
