This item tells more than a casual reader would suspect. For me, it was ominous.

The writer is a prime politician - perhaps a future Ben Reifel.

However BR has, from what I know of the two, more statesmanlike quality.

It would be worth one's while to have Ben fill you in on Indians in BSh as a means of conservation. (He tried to contact me when he was speaker for the Scouts at Norman, but we missed each other.) Richard Fitzgerald of Seneca can also do this for you. I cannot imagine a better place to put one's effort for the future than with Indians in Boy Scouts of America.

It is as good as your speech encouragement to College students in your district. Wish you could afford to keep me doing that for you - for the whole State.
