Gentlemen:

I am in receipt of your recent letter relative to H. R. 2232, the so-called Fair Employment Practice Act, which may soon come before Congress for consideration.

I am familiar with this proposed legislation. I have been asked to sign a petition to bring it out on the floor for discussion and consideration, but I have not and shall not sign the petition.

I note you indicate your disapproval of the measure and fear the consequences of the enactment of such a law. My present inclination is to agree with you heartily, and I am confident you will not be displeased or disappointed when you learn of my vote on this bill, if it does come before the House for a vote.

Thanking you for writing me on this subject, and with all good wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Schwabe:

My attention has been called to H.R. 2232 aimed to validate into law all of the requirements the executive order creating the "Fair Employment Practice Commission." I am of the opinion that such a law would be very detrimental to all American business and urge your careful study of the proposed act before taking a position for it.

Very truly yours,
