Honorable Gid Graham
Collinsville, Oklahoma

Dear Senator:

I have your letter of the 1st instant, which is as interesting as ever.

In reference to the bill proposed by our mutual friend, O. K. Chandler of Miami, I have been giving the bill considerable study, but have been away from the office for a few days and haven't looked at it for four or five days. As soon as I can get some of the mail off my desk, I shall renew my study. I discussed this proposed measure with O.K. while he was here and think I understand it fairly well. I want to talk with some of the boys in Congress before I go any further with it, and O.K. wanted me to do so.

With all tood wishes, I am your friend,

Sincerely yours,

George B. Schwabe, M.C.

What they write:

Ernest Thompson Seton, Author - Naturalist: The accounts of heroic animals possessing master minds are thrilling.

General Alva J. Niles: Animal Outlaws is the best book presenting heroic animals of the Old West produced in 40 years.

Editor Ovid Butler, American Forests: Read your book from cover to cover and enjoyed every page.

H. C. Jones, U. S. collector of Internal Revenue: It is a wonderful book on animal life and a great credit to the author.

General P. J. Hurley, Ex-Secretary of War: Animal Outlaws holds the attention of the investigator. It is fascinating and educational.

K. C. Kaufman, Historian, University of Oklahoma: If you have a boy whom you would like to reverence wild life, he should have this book.

J. Frank Dobie, Author, University of Texas: As Gid Graham points out, there are supreme individuals living according to their own codes of life—superb and admirable in their own realm.

Thomas Benton Williams, Author "Soul of the Red Man": This book is in a class by itself. He presents a distinguished wolf, a famous horse, the lion with all his stealth; follows the career of each. You see their courage, wisdom and patriotism as they resist man's invasion of their homes and fight for their rights to live.

June 1, 1946.

Dear El Lobo Osage--George Schwabe:

Oklahoma has one third of all Indian Population in U.S.A. They have been most un-justly treated, George and I am urging you to defend them.

OK Chandler of Miami has given much thought to Indian rights and has prepared a Bill, which appears to me to settle finally Claims of our Indian Peoples for 150 years--it looks good.

I trust you will carefully consider it and if approved Present and Push it for consideration in the House.

I commend you highly for passing Case Anti-labor Strike and subdue the CIO Hellions--they are cordially hated by our Farmers and--Taxpayers of Okla.

Our National Debt, is---appalling ! Exceeds in amount all of the Silver and Gold in the world ! Yet a Congress of Cringing Cowards still donates Billions to English Hellions who hate us--will strike us at first opportunity.

Demand:ECONOMY---a BALANCED BUDGET, George and the people of Oklahoma will bless you.

Your friend, Gid Graham,

Gid Graham

I doubt if any man in the United States makes as effective a crusader in the cause of wild life as Senator Graham. The picture of Graham's tall Cherokee figure — erect, inspired, commanding, never leaves the memory of one who has heard him make his impassioned plea for helpless things of the forest, field and stream. — Daily Oklahoman, Chas.
