Dear Mr. Martin:

Your recent communication addressed to Congressman Schwabe has been received at his Washington office. The Congressman is in Oklahoma at this time, but expects to return to Washington shortly before the 80th Congress convenes early in January, at which time I shall bring your note to his attention, as he is always interested in receiving the views of his constituents and having the benefit of their opinions.

With every good wish for you and yours in the Holiday Season, and thanking you for your public spirited interest in writing, I am

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. A. L. Warren, Secretary

C.C. Martin

Dear Sir,

In view of the recent
"John L. Lewis" fiasco against the U. S. Government; I suggest the strongest of anti-strike legislation for arrogant labor leaders. The time has come to see who runs this country. The majority, or a vicious minority group.
As a soldier of 5 years this recent war I can remember John L. Lewis
"stab in the back strike".
He was and is our 20th Century Benedict
Arnold.

Respectfully,

Cecil C. Martin
