Dear Mr. and Mrs. Carter:

I am pleased to acknowledge receipt of yours of the 22nd instant, in which you apparently advocate adoption of a peace-time conscription act and conscription of materials needed for the war effort. These measures have many arguments pro and con, and I am receiving many letters from my constituents on these subjects.

I assure you that I shall endeavor to do what I think is best and most truly American when it comes to voting on such problems. I have four sons in the service and I am keenly interested in their welfare and the welfare of our service men. A heavy responsibility rests upon us at the home front.

It was nice to have heard from you.

Yours very truly,

George B. Schwabe, M. C.

Dear Sir:

We should have had a National Service act right
after Pearl Harbor. We should have had it
last year. These failures offer no excuse for this Congress to hesitate
any longer than it takes to frame a proper law—
the general principles of the English law should meet our situation)

The President has again asked for such a law (this time in unequivocal language) and his request is supported by General Marshall, Admiral King and Secretaries Stimson and Forrestal.

For it The Army needs such a law and the Gallup Poll shows that the great majority of Americans want it. The boys in the army can't see why it is any different to draft a man to make a gun than it was to draft a man to shoot it.

We take this opportunity to express to you our personal views as above outlined.

Yours truly,

Mr. & Mrs. Stuart R. Carter
