Dear Mrs. Heffner:

Upon my return to Washington I found your very interesting and pungent letter of August 25th. I quite agree with all you said, and you really said a lot in a few words.

You may rest assured that I shall not be easily led by British diplomacy and diplomats on any subject, for I have a wholesome disregard for their sincerity except that I am sure they always have the British interests in mind, first, last and all the time.

Sincerely yours,

George B. Schwabe, M.C.

Dear Sir:

In my opinion the British have a gigantic nerve to expect a capitalistic country to finance their socialistic depredations on capital. If the Bank of England goes who will guarantee our loans? It seems to me they are piling more debt on their taxpayers to finance socialism and want us to put up the money. Lets not accommodate them.

Yours truly,

Philomine Heffner
