Re: U. S. Must Grant Big British Loan Says State Department

by Jack Doherty

Why does this government, which is a first and capital state, be subservient to Great Britain? Why must it be done?

Great Britain is a 2nd rate, or 3rd rate power today. Why should we give up our money on long term soft credit basis? Why should we equip them by selling our ships to compete with us on a basis which would subsidize our mercantile marine to a secondary position and afford them a basis of 1st rate power competing with labor scale according to trade unionism of both peoples and why not set up an economic basis or union commensurate with strike problems affecting the United States as of today?
